

Be Web Savvy

Keyword: Environmental Decision-Making. Web code: CJN-1014.

Log on to SciLinks at www.scilinks.org. Enter the web code. Choose one or two web resources.

1. Write the title and URL of the web resources you chose.

First choice

Second choice

2. Identify the expert(s) who are supplying the information. Hints: This could be an individual, a university, or a company. To find the expert you might look for logos or credits or find the home page button. You may also shorten the URL by removing characters from the right side of the URL and pressing the enter button to refresh the browser.

3. Could you contact the source for more information? List phone, e-mail, or snail-mail address.

4. Provide evidence that shows the expert knows the information. Hints: Do they have an advanced degree, such as a masters or doctorate in this field? Do they have published research? Does the information come from a well-known company or university/college?

5. How does the expert support the conclusions or information provided?

6. Would you recommend this web page to a friend studying this topic? Why?

7. List two pieces of information from this web resource that you didn't know before.
